

RADIOLOGY INSIGHTS

We surveyed 65 radiologists, technologists, and administrators from radiology businesses. Here's what we found...

1

The top 3 things respondents want to change about the way they communicate at work are...

- ✓ One tool for communication
- ✓ Messaging integrated into clinical systems
- ✓ Real-time messaging capabilities

2

Respondents rate “external communication” as “very poor” when reflecting on current communication practices with individuals or businesses outside of their organisation.

Foxo enables seamless communication between businesses and external healthcare professionals.

3

Over 88% of respondents said it was “extremely important” to reduce manual entry processes.

Foxo provides integrated communication that transforms efficiencies, improves accuracies, and provides a blended environment that improves admin and clinical collaboration.

4

Radiographers spend almost 20% of their week chasing outstanding patient queries. This equates to $12,000 per technician, per year.

Foxo empowers individuals with integrated workflows that streamline existing procedures and connect Teams.

5

100% of healthcare professionals said “secure, instant messaging with their colleagues would improve their day”.

Foxo provides individuals and organisations with integrated, secure, real-time messaging, enterprise workflows, and connectivity between organisations.
