Freequently Asked Questions:

We don't want our doctors receiving direct messages

Your incoming referral communications can be sent to your clerical team and escalated or triaged to clinical teams as necessary.

What are the workflows to resolve the incoming query?

Your Teams can be setup and mapped to your current workflows and staffing requirements. Incoming queries can be shared to other Foxo Teams (eg escallated to a Clinical team) and are escallated to SMS or email when urgent or missed.

How can referrers access our Guest Chat service?

Guest Chat is launched from a simple link (URL or QR Code). This can be embedded in templates, discharge summaries, reports, results, and pasted into emails or SMS. You can also configure your Guest Chat link to direct from a web URL such as www.ReferrerConcierge. chat. Guest Chat can also be launched from the other clinical systems and directories.

How does identification work?

When your Referrer engages with your Guest Chat service, they must enter their full name, email address or mobile phone. We send them a 1-time pin for authentication (this is skipped when launched from Zed's image vierwer). Once your Referrer has entered the Chat, you may follow your current verification processes such as asking for their clinical identifiers.
